

TYPES OF GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE

Gender-based violence is anything that makes a person feel like they are not safe such as harmful attitudes, harassment and abuse. It can mean a person is afraid to go to work, the shopping centre, enjoy time with their friends or any other activities.

Sometimes people who suffer gender-based violence are threatened or harassed. Gender-based violence can be when someone gets physically or emotionally hurt or is treated poorly because of their gender. Gender-based violence might happen just once or it might happen more often.
